

Lauritzen Tankers at your service

Lauritzen Tankers

Oil products or crude oil?

Think of Lauritzen Tankers. –We're always thinking of you

When you're a mid-sized company you get to know your customers well. Lauritzen Tankers prides itself on being dependable, dedicated, and in-touch with its customers and their needs. That's been the tradition of the Lauritzen Group throughout its more than one hundred years of successful shipping operations. Lauritzen Tankers is the Group's tanker specialists and the youngest of the Lauritzen companies. Our skilled staff and modern fleet provide oil companies and oil traders with reliable, safe and cost-efficient ocean transport of everything from vegetable oils to crude oil, petroleum products and chemicals.

Up close and personal, globally

We strive to provide convenient and committed quality transportation services to help advance our customers' business goals. From our main office in Copenhagen, Denmark, we operate a fleet of modern, double-hulled, medium-sized tankers on a global basis. We transport cargo along the traditional routes such as those crossing the Atlantic and Pacific basins, from the Arabian Gulf to the Singapore/Japan area, and from the Caribbean to the US. But we also have a proven track record fulfilling demanding assignments such as lightering operations off the West African coast and local distribution in the Red Sea, the Arabian Gulf and the Far East.

It remains a high priority with Lauritzen Tankers to continuously train its seagoing staff to meet the strict requirements of international maritime legislation as well as the high quality and safety demands of the oil industry.

At Lauritzen Tankers we are meticulous about safety, about training our crews and keeping paper trails on all aspects of vetting. You can always count on our special cargo handling capabilities for safe and reliable service.

"WE WANT OUR CLIENTS TO COME AWAY WITH A FIRST-RATE EXPERIENCE – COMFORTABLE IN THE KNOWLEDGE THAT LAURITZEN TANKERS TAKES CARE OF THEIR CARGO AND BUSINESS NEEDS IN A RELIABLE AND EFFICIENT FASHION. THE WAY LAURITZEN HAS BEEN KNOWN TO DO FOR DECADES,"

*says Anders Mortensen,

In good hands. Among friendly faces

The staff at Lauritzen Tankers are shipping professionals from the tanker industry with experience handling vegetable and crude oil, petroleum products and chemical cargoes. Our technical staff have extensive seagoing experience as well as a solid background in the shipbuilding industry. A familiar face in the business, president of Lauritzen Tankers, Anders Mortensen, is committed to ensuring customers convenient and dependable service that appreciates varying business needs. And with shipping and shipbuilding veteran Erik Møller in charge of technical operations and fleet management, you can trust that your experience with Lauritzen Tankers will be smooth sailing in everything from customer service and logistics to cargo handling and documentation.
